FOREWORD

Through the cooperation of students, faculty, administration, and organizations, the staff of the Echo once more brings the annual yearbook to the student body. We hope that through its pages will be portrayed the real work and aims of leaders and teachers in a nation maintained, trained, and educated for democracy.

DEDICATION

The Echo of 1936-37 is dedicated to one who comes in personal contact with more students of the Teachers College each day than any other individual on the campus

MRS. EDNA M. CAMPBELL

May this book return a fraction of the happiness to her that she has given us through her many kind services and cheerful words.

Fall brings football and excitement. The photographer has caught these activities during September, October and November.

Cavanah boots a high one with Miller's assistance. Alexander snags a high pass. The study hall seems to be an attractive spot and some days students look down from Science Hall.

J M N

Inside Chrystal grades Guidance Bureau tests and Eddie talks with Europe or Asia. Students hurry away from classes at noon and the Phi Sigs challenge the Miners. Enrollment day starts things off and the nice fall days make it easy to stay outside.

Another year is almost gone
Trod its paths were by sprightly feet.
Youths' minds intent to work and play
And sing the songs of joy which ne'er grow old.
Recorded are the smiles and looks in this our book,
Its pages light the memories of days gone by,
And shall remind us of first faltering steps, and slow,
But with momentum gained, began to climb
Ascending with those who love children,
Taking them by the hand, saluting sunrise and the morning dew,
Protection from onrushing storm and clouds.
Children do we serve and love, who make this book.

—Eugene Fair.

The daily news of the educational world always contains reference to many activities and movements that Dr. Kirk has originated and supported in this school. Physical Education, Public Health, a dozen others, can be named. Never afraid of criticisms he has always pursued the way of progress and has been often rewarded by seeing the results of his work widely adopted.

Last November at the State Teachers Meeting he was named as one of the outstanding contributors to American Education.

Alumni Reunion

Each year the alumni of Northeast Missouri State Teachers College assemble for a reunion during the state convention of the Missouri Teachers Association. The program at each reunion is dedicated to illustrious alumni.

At the last assembly in Kansas City, Missouri, the program was in honor of W. T. Carrington, '76; and John R. Kirk, '78. Sen. S. M. Snodgrass, '88, was toastmaster. President Eugene Fair, 1901, and Judge Hopkins Shain, '84, paid tribute to the honored guests. How fine that this tribute was paid to these educators and leaders at this time! After a brief illness with pneumonia, Mr. Carrington died January 21, 1937.

For several years the College, with the co-operation of the Student Council and the service organizations Blue Key and Cardinal Key, has sponsored an Orientation program for Freshman students. This program, which is under the direction of Mrs. Ellison, helps the new students on the campus to become adjusted to their new surroundings and activities. This endeavor has been so successful that it is now a permanent part of the fall enrollment.

Season's Summary

The 1936 Football season looked dark before the Bulldog squad consisting of about fifty men; fourteen lettermen and the rest last year's men and freshmen. The squad was built up and before the season was completed a championship team was developed.

The opener for the 1936 season was a game with the Missouri U. "B" team on October 7. The Bulldogs came through with a victory of 13-8. A week later the Bulldogs took a trip to Pittsburg, Kansas, where they defeated the Pitt Gorillas 14-0 and rounded off their non-conference competition for the year.

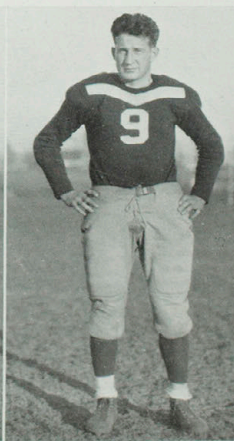

Conference play for the Bulldogs started on October 16, with a home game against the Springfield Bears, which the Bulldogs won to the tune of 13-2. Kirksville travels to Cape Girardeau on the week end of October 23 and returned with a 6-0 victory after a hard fought battle with the Indians.

When Rolla visited Kirksville on October 30, the Miners showed the Bulldogs a good scrap but lost 13-12. The string of victories continued to stay unbroken the following Friday evening when the Maryville Bearcats were defeated 7-0.

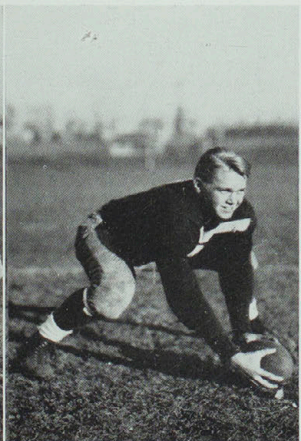

The Championship game was played on the superstitious night of Friday, November 13th, against the Warrensburg Mules. After what proved the toughest and most interesting game of the year, the Bulldogs returned home undefeated for the night, by a victory of 13-7, and undefeated for 1936 with seven victories and no losses. The year gave the Bulldogs their fifth consecutive M.I.A.A. Championship.

This fraternity was first established at the University of Florida in 1924. The first decision for enlargement into a national organization was in February, 1925. On April 5, 1926 the Northeast Missouri State Teachers College Chapter of Blue Key was installed. The local chapter is one of seventy-five chapters in colleges and universities all over the United States.

Members of Blue Key are selected on the following qualifications: 1. Scholarship (based on sixty hours of college credit); 2. Interest and affiliation with school activities; 3. Personality; 4. Moral standing.

College Players is a group of young people under the sponsorship of Miss Ruth Curtis of the speech department.

More than one hundred students work together in this group for the purpose of enjoying and sharing with others the very best in heritage of dramatic literature. This purpose has dominated and directed the activities of the group since its beginning in 1912, as a class in Shakespeare under Professor E. R. Barret. The organization then the Thalian Guild and later the College Dramatic Club, under the direction of Dr. C. M. Wise, was the nucleus from which grew the present speech department.

A year's work is divided between social activities and dramatic productions. Activities consist of two one-act plays fortnightly throughout the year and three to four major productions.

Winter

BOOK TWO

This winter brought ice and snow as well as the burning of the Little Theatre. Though small in size it has its share of campus tradition.

Gail sells another book and Dr. Rieger lectures on organic chemistry while Joseph Baldwin looks over the campus of the school he founded. The photographer finds Vic in his office. Science Hall empties itself at noon.

The Little Theater

Thirteen years a Model Rural School and seventeen years a Little Theater, the small wooden structure designed by President-emeritus John R. Kirk was devastated by fire February 18, 1937.

In 1920 the building was turned over to Mr. C. M. Wise, then head of the speech work in the Teachers College. Professor Clifton Cornwell, speech teacher, played in the first plays given there.

Through all the seventeen years that the building served as a theater, the student actors and directors were governed by a few fundamental principles. They are: the desire to share with others the beauty that the players find in dramatic literature; there are no small parts in plays; there is no great art without sacrifice; honesty, earnestness and punctuality are necessary for any dramatic production that intends to make a claim to being art.

The Little Theater seated only about 80 persons, and students crowded it for two performances each evening a program was given there.

Probably one of the most outstanding things about this place is the fact that the first high school plays contests in the world originated there. Students trained in the Little Theater go out into the Northeast Missouri District, train high school students in dramatics, and each spring bring one-act plays to the Teachers College campus and present them.

GEO. H. WELLS, Director of Athletics

BASKETBALL

After a sixteen year record as coach, athletic instructor, camp supervisor for boys, and scout executive, Dr. George Wells is completing his second year as athletic director at Kirksville. He began coaching in the ranks of professional football with the Minneapolis Bears in 1920. In 1924 he received his Bachelor's Degree from the Pittsburg Teachers College in Kansas. During 1926-27 he was assistant physical education director at Iowa City. He served as head of many boys camps and later was accredited with a Doctor's degree from the University of Iowa in 1934.

As Athletic Director he is the backfield coach in football, head basketball and baseball coach and physical education instructor.

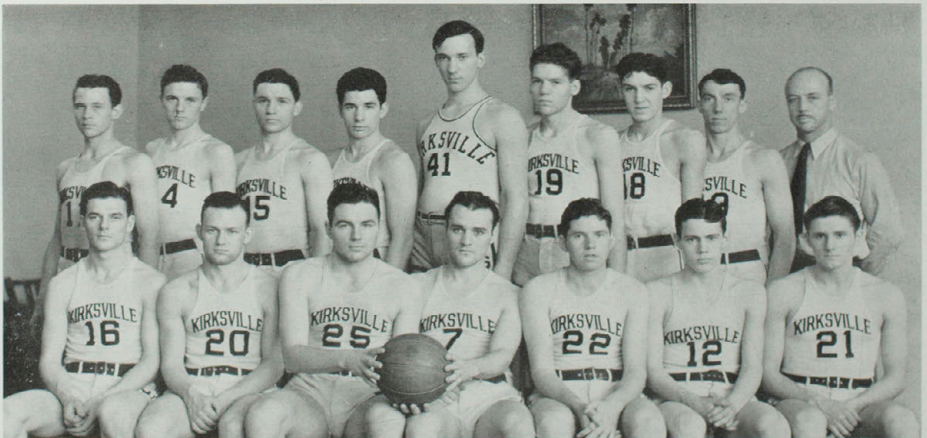

Season's Review, 1936-37

Forty men answered the call for the opening of the 1936 basketball season, six of them lettermen.

The Bulldogs were set back by a score of 25-44 in their initial game of the season with the Ottumwa Y.M.C.A. They scored a victory game in their second attempt by trimming the Bloomfield Jr. College 50-22 on December 1.

After a hard fought game on December 11, the Bulldogs were on the short end of a close score which was in Graceland's favor, 40-41. A week later the Bulldogs added another defeat to their schedule by losing again, by one point, to the Chillicothe Business College, 33-34.

The Pitt Gorillas handed the Bulldogs a defeat on January 7, 49-23.

Pi Kappa Delta, honorary speech fraternity, was founded by Prof. E. R. Nichols in 1913. Today Pi Kappa Delta covers work in debate, oratory, and extemporaneous speaking.

Theta Chapter was established at the Northeast Missouri State Teachers College in 1930 with fifteen charter members. Clifton Cornwell, sponsor of the organization now, was one of the original members. Representatives from the local chapter have attended six conventions: National conventions at Tulsa, Okla., in 1932; Lexington, Ky., in 1934, and Huston, Texas, in 1936; Province conventions were at Westminster in 1931; Des Moines, Ia., in 1933, and Cape Girardeau in 1935. The local chapter now numbers fifteen active members. Requirements for entry into the speech fraternity are to take part in three non-decision or two decision intercollegiate debates, or to compete in one oratory or extempore contest.

The A Cappella Choir

KEMBLE STOUT, Director

The A Cappella Choir, directed this year by Kemble Stout, gives students interested in singing a chance to become familiar with some of the best choir literature. The members are selected by try-outs held at the beginning of the school year. Any student may try-out for the choir.

This year besides concerts in Kirksville and other towns in North-east Missouri, the Choir has sung at the State Teachers meeting in Kansas City, and the District Conference of Music Supervisors in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

The Physics Club was organized in the fall of 1935. Its membership is limited to those fulfilling certain requirements in the field of Physics. The purpose of the club is to provide its members with material of scientific interest which is not ordinarily obtained in class. It is also the purpose of the club to develop in its members an interest in current science. A banquet is sponsored annually in honor of an outside physics professor who is invited to inspect the physics department.

Representative Students

These students were selected as being representative of their department. Selection was made by the faculty of that department. Their decision was made primarily on a scholarship basis.

Springs

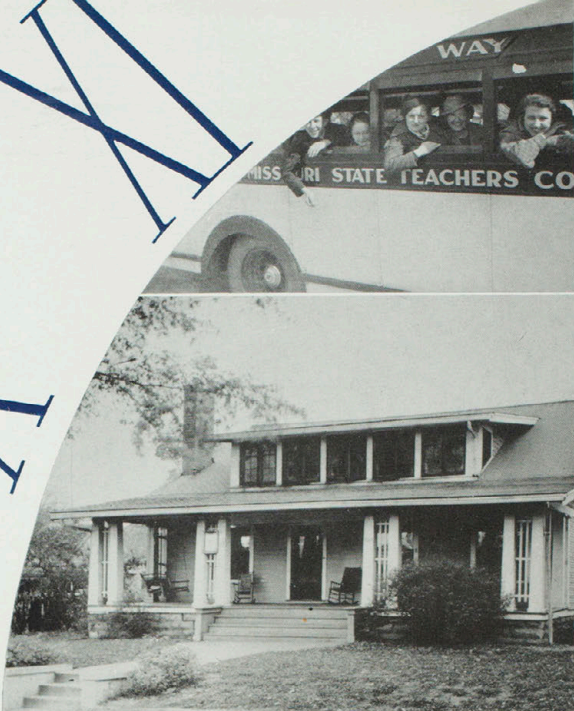

BOOK THREE

S P R I N G

The A Cappella Choir got its spring a month early by going to Tulsa.

The Tau house gets set for spring activities.

Women athletics take up spring sports while the machinists work in the shop. Spring also brings flowers in the sunken garden and the climax for the seniors, graduation.

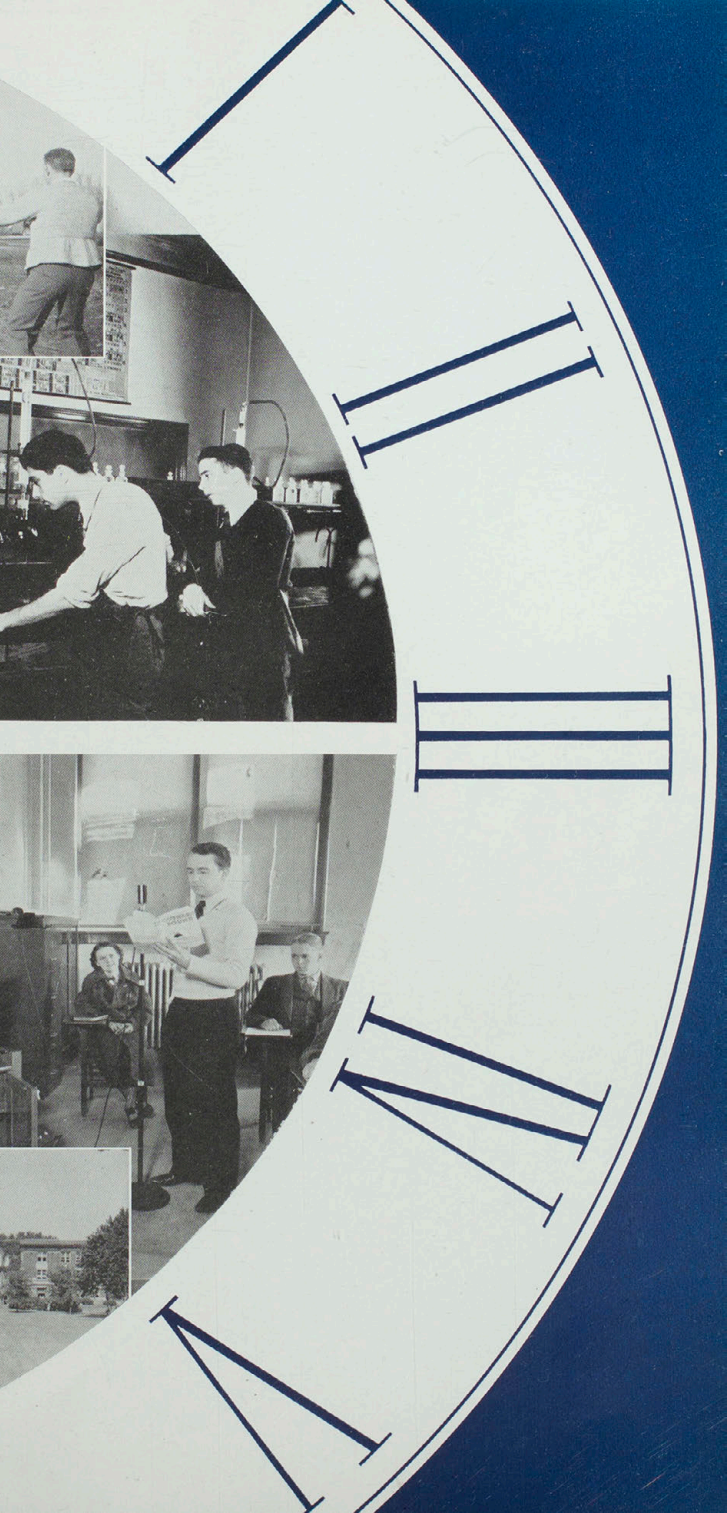

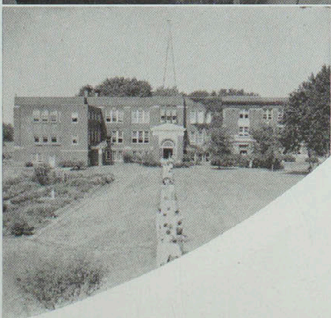

N G

Baseball arrives as they get warmed up for intra-murals. Pete and Perry start on third after Organic.

The recording machine in the speech department never lies, but tells the hard, hard, truth.

Spring sun makes the walk from Kirk to Science Hall a job instead of an Arctic expedition.

The Kirkville Symphony Orchestra, which is sponsored by the College, is recruited from the best players in the Kirkville College of Osteopathy and Surgery, the Kirkville High School, the Teachers College and the community at large. Starting with a small group of music lovers that met weekly for the purpose of studying the masterpieces of orchestral music it has rapidly grown to its present membership of fifty. While its primary purpose is still to afford its members the opportunity to become familiar with orchestral literature and to acquire experience in symphonic playing, the orchestra gives annual public concerts and cooperates with the vocal forces of the school and community in productions of the standard operas and oratorios.

The Women's Athletic Association was organized in the fall of 1924. The purpose of the organization is to further women's athletics and develop a spirit of sportsmanship. Thus, the association sponsors the following tournaments for the women of the college: Tennis, Volleyball, Basketball and Baseball. It also sponsors a Track and Field Meet and has taken up camping activities in connection with its cabin on the Chariton River.

During the year of 1935 the organization became a member of the American Physical Education Association. Last year the organization sent delegates to the National Convention of the American Physical Education Association for the first time. Five delegates were sent to the convention which was held in St. Louis in April. This year five delegates were sent to the Central District Association Convention held in Denver, Colorado during the first week in April.

Throughout the year the Physical Education department sponsors dance programs illustrating the types of dancing taught. The dance program given this year by the department was a Modern Dance Recital, given the first week of the spring quarter. The dances given in the recital were original interpretations made by members of the class in modern dancing and of the Modern Dance group. The program was given, with some slight changes, before the A. A. U. W.

The assembly program sponsored by the department which was given in the fall quarter was a demonstration of the different activities offered to freshmen for their Required Physical Education. The activities offered include dance, major sports, minor sports, and recreational activities.

According to the constitution two types of membership were set up. The first is charter membership. This is held by students having at least ten hours of credit in mathematics with an M average. The second is associate membership. This is held by students that do not have the ten hours credit.

The Agriculture Club was organized in the fall of 1935 with a membership of twenty-six. The purpose of this club is to create interest in agriculture in the teaching profession and as a vocation. The programs consist of social and professional meetings for the improvement of fellowship and a better knowledge of current agricultural affairs.

The club enrollment this year, '36-'37, is twenty active members and fourteen associate members. The programs for the club have been furnished by various agriculture leaders in northeast Missouri. Their subjects have touched such fields in agriculture as, soil erosion, 4 H Club work, insurance company farms, and live stock problems. The club is doing field work during the spring quarter. They are giving programs to various farm organizations and rural P. T. A.'s. The programs consist of talks by the various club members on vital agricultural questions, such as, soil conservation, field crops, and feeds and feeding. This professional club has enjoyed unusual progress in its two years of activity and promises to become one of the largest and most active groups in the school.

This organization was founded in 1905 by the following men: Dr. Eugene Fair, Professor J. T. Vaughn, Representative E. O. Jones, Superintendent Charles Banks, and J. H. McKinney. Every two weeks meetings were held at ten o'clock on Saturday. The meetings were two hours in length, the programs consisting of a worthwhile discussion by one of the members, were planned many months in advance. Each member of the society was expected to give some thought to the subject in the round table discussion. With the exception of a very few years, the society has been active, and has maintained a high standard in its programs. At the present time the society meets every two weeks on the first and third Wednesdays of each month.
